Thought of the Week

Isaiah

Isaiah is a religious man who we think lived in Jerusalem about 2,700 years ago. He used to regularly go to a huge and beautiful Temple in Jerusalem to worship God.

One day, Isaiah went as usual to the Temple and something extraordinary happened to him.

Isaiah had a vision and in his vision, he heard God calling him to be prophet—God's messenger—and even though he didn't think he was good enough, he said 'yes' to God.

For many years, Isaiah went on telling the people how God wanted them to live and warning them what would happen if they didn't change their wrong behaviour. His sayings were collected in a book named after him and that book is now part of the Bible.

That was all a very long time ago.

What we can learn from the story of Isaiah that will help us in our own lives? I can think of at least two things....

The first is that Christians, Jewish people and others believe that God can use all sorts of people to do his work, even people who don't think they are good enough. Isaiah didn't think he was good enough, but nearly 3,000 years later, people are still reading what Isaiah said about God.

The second thing we can learn is that when we are asked to do something hard, like Isaiah was, if we say 'yes' and really do our best we can often do much more than as thought we could.

wall of fame

This week Mrs Collier launched her 'Wall of Fame'

This is an initiative to ensure that she has the opportunity to celebrate the successes and achievements in learning for all pupils in the school.

When they produce a piece of work that shows significant learning, they will be asked to show Mrs Collier.

They will then choose a sticker to put on their pictures to show that they have made the 'Wall of Fame'

Mrs Collier has already seen; a debate team, some amazing writing about Owls from Y2 and some excellent work from Y4 and Y6 pupils.

She hopes to be very busy looking at lots of fantastic work.
